April 6, 2022

ATLANTA – Beazer Homes has been ranked #1 in the construction industry on Newsweek's list of America's Most Trusted Companies 2022. The awards list can currently be viewed on Newsweek's website.

The top 400 Most Trusted Companies across 22 industries have been chosen with three core audiences in mind: customers, investors, and employees.

"I'm unbelievably proud of our team for being named the #1 most trusted construction company on Newsweek's list of America's Most Trusted Companies 2022," says Allan Merrill, President and CEO of Beazer Homes. "This recognition – which was neither solicited nor paid for – is a tremendous honor and reflects our commitment to doing what we say we are going to do. That's the only way to build trust – and the only way we can fulfill our purpose to create durable and growing value for our customers, employees, partners and shareholders."

The list of America's Most Trusted Companies was compiled using the results of an independent survey conducted by Statista Inc., a world-leading statistics portal and industry ranking provider. An extensive sample of approximately 50,000 U.S. residents rated companies they know on touchpoints of trust. All stock exchange listed companies with a revenue over $500 million in 2020 have been considered in the study.
